DYLON MERCURYE

PRESS KIT

House & Tech House DJ · Long Island, NY

Driving, melodic dancefloor energy built to carry a room from open to close. On a mission to grow the electronic music scene at home on Long Island, and to spread it globally as his sound reaches more listeners.

BIOGRAPHY

Dylon Mercurye is a house and tech house DJ based on Long Island, NY. His sets move between deep, melodic grooves and peak-time tech house, built to carry a floor from open to close. He has performed at Elsewhere and 1 Hotel Brooklyn, The Delancey in Lower Manhattan, and Your Shot NY, and most recently supported Kyle Cooke at The Summer Club NYC. He hosts Saturday Morning Cartunes, a mix series.

Beyond the bookings, Dylon is on a mission to grow the electronic music scene at home on Long Island, a place with the setting and the natural vibe for this music, while pushing that sound outward as it reaches more listeners around the world. He wants to help build the rooms and nights that let the local scene grow, and to carry that energy globally. Local roots, global reach. One set at a time.
